The brave young man

He flied like an eagle on the road
all in the neighborhood are proud of him his black eyes were looking down
The brave young man strode down, the brave young man strode down.

There was a cloud in his eyes and iron in his heart
the flowing blood covered the sun and the Grim Reaper was rushing.

They close their eyes and their hearts
they lock the windows
then the Grim Reaper attacked riding his horse and the brave young man was smiling.

Who goes down to the reign of Ades today?
for whom the neighbors are talking and are so upset?
why do the mountains and the valleys remain silent?
The brave young man strode down.
