en dyo tha se fa-a-me.

The ant

A deaf ant took me from the hand he says I am the most wise in the swarm.
And his little ants
clap enthusiastically their hands
one two - we grovel
one two - we fight
one two - we're not hungry.

You are well settled my great ant but be careful of your nice throat.
And his little ants
clap enthusiastically their hands
one two - we grovel
one two - we fight
one two - but we're hungry.

Before I tell him to act differently all the village came along to eat the ant.
And his little ants
clap enthusiastically their hands
one two - we pray
one two - we fight
one two - we will eat you.
