The rain

I have a girlfriend
she wears a gray coat
when she comes out to the road we play chase.

She has a thousand little legs to dance in the corners she has a thousand little heels to hit in the yards.

I have a girlfriend
that I ask for when I get warmed she has long hands
that bring the dew.

She has long hair
which she drags to the ground they wash the rocks
and the earth smells wonderful.
